Mission:

Nadder Community Energy (NCE) is a Community Benefit Society that promotes renewable energy projects and raises money for green projects in the Nadder Valley

What they do:

Community energy is a growing movement in which energy generation is owned not by large industrial companies but by local communities, with the profits invested back into the community. Community energy groups also work to combat fuel poverty and improve energy efficiency by modifying insulation and draught-proofing.

Nadder Community Energy raises money in our local area by selling shares which are paid back over a set period, plus interest; this money is used to put solar panels or other renewable energy systems into our community, e.g. businesses or schools. As well as paying shareholders, the money they raise also goes into a Community Fund for local green projects and groups.
